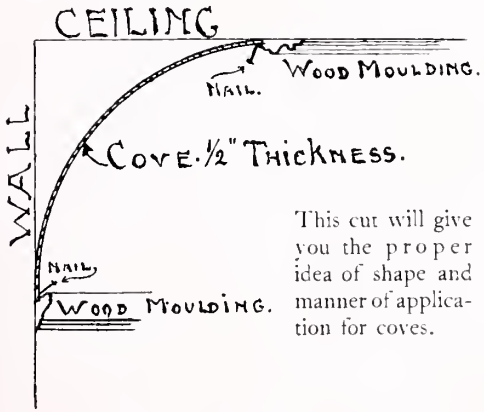
Stucco Decoration

PREFACE

IN submitting our new book to the trade, we have endeavored to give on every page much needed information concerning the various objects shown, and showing the measurements, thereby saving much valuable time. Our ornaments are surely up-to-date, most practically laid out, and will convey to you the idea that we can execute any kind and manner of decorations, suited to all purposes. We will, of course, keep on going ahead progressively with new patterns, and trust that you will find a variety of ornaments which will interest you in our book. By following strictly our directions, given below, you cannot fail to apply the ornaments in the proper way.

Directions.—To apply Plastic Stucco Ornaments on plaster as well as on burlaps or cloth surfaces, use good flour paste, adding two handfuls of plaster paris, which must be moistened before putting into the paste, mixing it then well together. For sizing walls and ceilings use ordinary glue size. For pointing up ornaments use a plaster paris mixture, to which a thin glue size is added. Cornices and coves are nailed or screwed only. Ornaments on thin background have to be trimmed around outer edge of ornament with a sharp penknife.



This cut will give you the proper idea of shape and manner of application for coves.

All orders require from two to nine days' time for proper execution, except tulips, laurel leaves, beads and small corners, wreaths, shields, etc., which are kept in stock and shipped same day order is received.

No. 313. Cornice, on ceiling 6 in., on wall 11 in., fibre-hard stucco.

No. 220. Moulding, 10 in. wide, $2\frac{3}{4}$ in. high.

These beam ceilings are very rich in effect.

As the mitres are all completed here, and all ceilings laid out so as to fit exactly the size and shape of room, it is a very easy matter for any decorator to put same up. The material is nailed or screwed to the ceiling and wall, and joints pointed up with plaster-of-paris mixture, to which a little thin glue size is added. As fibre-hard stucco does not shrink or crack, it is preferable to a natural wood ceiling, and imitated in hard wood or metal. All beam ceilings can be arranged to any size and shape of room.

For boxing we charge self-cost only.

Our material and workmanship is very much superior to most ornamental decorations on the market. It is not chalky, is light, models sharp and artistically cut. Fibre-hard stucco, our new composition, takes the place of papier-mache, and is more easily applied. It is hard, and as it has little suction, requires only a thin size, when it can be nailed, glued or screwed to any surface.

Try our ornaments; you will find them greatly superior to most plastic decorations on the market. Fibre-hard stucco can be glued, pasted or nailed to any surface. Our ornaments on thin background require only a little glue-size on back, outside lines trimmed with a sharp pen-knife, and then applied with good flour paste to which a little plaster-of-paris has been added. Ornaments on thread do not twist, and therefore can be put up in half the time in which inferior goods can be applied.
